[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 29.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The Senate in executive session to-day, refused to take action on the San Domingo treaty by 31 to 28.

The Senate held a short executive session, and coming out, took up the tax bill. Sections relative to sugar were struck out, leaving the duty as at present. The duty on spices were similarly treated. Further amendments were adopted, but without concluding the bill.

In the House, the substitute for the bill to prevent the extermination of fur bearing animals of Alaska passed—121 to 67.

The statements that Gen. Sherman has ordered the dispossession of the colored squatters of York county, Virginia, are untrue. All the action he has ever taken was in April last, at the desire of Governor Walker, expressed to the President, to notify Gen. Canby to assist the civil authorities when cases arose that warranted the use of soldiers. Neither has any such dispossession or ejection taken place.

The great California revenue case, pending before the Treasury Department since September 18, 1869, has reached another stage in its solution. The original seizure amounted to 1,499 barrels of whisky, in the possession of DeWitt, Kittle & Co., owned by Yates Ferguson, whisky dealer, and 1,209 barrels in the possession of Platt & Newton, owned by Horace, Webster & Co., New York, Barrill, Miller & Co. and Guyser, Holerhoffer & Co., Cincinnati, and John Schumzer & Co., New York. The charge made against the whisky by the officers was, that while packages had on tax paid and warehouse stamps, they needed also the stamp of the Rectifier. In other words, the officers claimed the whisky to have been rectified. It rested upon the claimants to prove to the contrary. This was done several times, months ago, in the case of Webster & Co., who had 3,000 barrels released, the balance being held for investigation, with other lots. Now an order has been issued to release 1,409 barrels, seized, in the possession of Platt & Newton, belonging to parties before named, without being held for further testimony. The counsel in the case has no doubt of the release of all in good time.

The President has signed a joint resolution concerning the Southern Pacific Railroad of California.

A Senate bill which passed to day prevents the extermination of fur animals in Alaska, and leases the privilege of seal fishing to a company for twenty years on such terms as will give the Government for that period a revenue of $5,000,000. The company is placed under heavy bonds and penalties for the fulfillment of its contract.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Three new cases of sunstroke yesterday—two fatal. Weather cooler to day.

The Tribune's Washington special stated that the recall of Mr. Motley was fully decided upon, and added that Mr. Fish would remain in the Cabinet, but he was aware that the Secretary retained his place against his own inclinations and because the President strongly desired him to remain. The same dispatch says the end of the fight on the Alaska fur seal bill, is not reached. Its becoming a law, will be vigorously opposed.

The Reconstruction Committee reconsidered the amnesty bill to-day and agreed to postpone it till December. Beck first submitted the substitute, which was agreed to, simply granting amnesty to all, except classes enumerated by Butler, striking out from the bill of the latter those clauses which relate to property and the right of property. The committee was instructed to report at the first call of the committee at the next session.

The majority of the House Sub Election Committee, have decided to report in favor of Switzler, (Dem.), against Dyer, (Rep.), sitting member from the Ninth Missouri District, but against Gen. Shields, (Dem.), contestant of the seat of Van Horn, from the Sixth Missouri District.

New York News.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The Alaska and Henry Chauncey have arrived.

It is reported that the English mission has been offered to Senator Morgan.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Times' monetary article says that at the end of the present year it will be found that the Treasury has received $125,000,000 in customs duties, and the country consumed about $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 more of foreign goods than last year, and that we have exported at least $100,000,000 more of domestic produce and gold values in the settlement of our foreign balances, than last year.

Vessels are arriving daily from ports infected with the yellow fever, bringing evidence of sickness and death on board during their voyages. At a meeting of the Quarantine Commissioners to-day, the matter was elaborately considered and precautions were taken to insure the city from the scourge.

Cuban News.

Gonzolas Junio, an insurgent leader, was executed to day at Ft. Cabanas.

No Democratic Ticket in Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., June 28.—The Democratic State Convention, after a long and animated discussion, adjourned to Bangor, August 16th, it is understood in the hope of nominating a citizen's ticket, with Gov. Chamberlain at the head.

Great Fire in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, June 28.—The most disastrous oil fire which ever occurred here is now raging near Sharpsburg bridge, in the eighteenth ward. At 3 P. M., during a terrible rainstorm, in which two houses were blown down and trees uprooted, the 2,000 barrel tank belonging to the Relapse refinery, was struck by lightning, and another tank belonging to the citizens refinery, struck at the same time. The Relapse tank exploded, the burning oil running toward the river, burning all the Eclipse Company's buildings, and setting fire to the Sharpsburg bridge, which was destroyed. The following are the principal losses: Citizens refinery, one tank, 3,000 bbls crude oil; Astral Works; J. B. Ball & Son's building; Anchor works, Dolworth Bros., one tank crude oil, National Refinery and Storing Company, Bleaching house and agitator; Allegheny Railroad Company, ten cars crude oil; and the Sharpsburg bridge. Total loss probably a half million dollars.

Aid for Cuba.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Intelligence from the Republic of Colombia is important. A resolution was introduced in the Colombian Senate instructing Government to propose an alliance with the Republics of Spanish America, the object being to effect the liberation of Cuba and Porto Rico. Should Spain refuse to withdraw her troops from these islands, the allies will declare war against her and aid the Cubans. The resolution passed enthusiastically by a large majority.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Olive Logan had a fine audience at Platt's Hall to hear her lecture on "Girls." It was smart and piquant, but coarse; sometimes bordering on the vulgar.

The Board of Education last evening adopted resolutions against the Principals and their wives being employed at the same school, and directed a transfer to be made accordingly. They also direct that any teacher absenting himself or herself from his or her position during the school term for a period of two days without notice to the Principal or leave of absence from the Board, shall forfeit his or her position as teacher. Principals failing to regard such absence forfeit their positions.

The United States Treasurer gives notice that United States notes, series of 1862, two thousand notes of ten dollars each, from No. H 3,5[illegible],001 to No. H 3,5[illegible],000, both inclusive, were stolen from the Treasury. No. $10 notes of a number higher than H 3,2[illegible]6,000 have been issued. The public are advised to look out for the stolen notes. A liberal reward will be paid to any person through whose instrumentality the thief may be detected.

Weather beautiful and clear.

The report of a cave in the Yellow Jacket mine and loss of five lives causes considerable excitement on the street this morning, and will probably depress the market still further.

The Constitution, now one day overdue from Panama, is not yet telegraphed.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Five vessels are engaged to load wheat for England, all at Vallejo. The first is the Northumbria which is already loading. The Sprott and Conqueror were towed up this evening. The indications are that all the grain crop this year exported from points on the California Pacific Railroad and northward, will be loaded at Vallejo for Europe direct, and our local storehouses feel the effect on their business very seriously.

The Board of Supervisors, at their usual meeting to-day, rejected all bids for Hospital and Alms House supplies for incorrectness in estimates, and ordered the clerk to advertise for new ones.

A steamer, supposed to be the Constitution from Panama, passed San Pedro at 11 o'clock A. M. yesterday, steering north. If this is her she will not enter port before morning, as she is not yet telegraphed and the orders are that she must not come in after 10 o'clock P. M., but to slow down and remain outside.

The Mayor, Common Council and other city officers of Vallejo will join in the celebration of the Fourth of July in this city, probably also those of Oakland.

The material of the old Times' office have been sold by the Alta to go to Portland for a new daily, to be edited by Dr. Albert A. Ames, the present local editor of the Alta.

George Lynde, aged 10 years, son of G. L. Lynde of Fruitvale, was shot through the breast and mortally wounded, with a Spencer rifle, yesterday, by a boy from this city, while playing "robbers" in his father's barn. The boy whose carelessness caused the tragedy ran away as soon as he saw what he had done. The father was shot by the same rifle a year or two since, and crippled for life.

Sale of real estate comprising the old Willow property at the Mission, now filled up to grade to-day at auction was a great success. Bidding was spirited and prices satisfactory.

The case of Doctress Howard, charged with murder by procuring abortion on Mary S. Johnson was partly heard in the Police Court to day, continued to Friday.

The report that the Orient Insurance Company of this city will increase its capital and continue business under the Presidency of Jacob Deith is incorrect. It will be wound up as soon as possible; Mr. Deith only accepting the Presidency for that purpose. He found that it will pay from 60 to 70 cents on the dollar to the stockholders. A committee has been appointed to ascertain the amount of the alleged defalcations in the office and decide whether to commence criminal prosecutions or not.

The distribution of lots of the San Mateo City Homestead Association by premium is proceeding this evening; the premiums generally ranging under $50.

The passengers by the Constitution hence May 18th, did not get to New York until the Henry Chauncy arrived there yesterday, having remained on board from the time of first leaving Aspinwall, and being 41 days on the trip.

Passengers for the East leave San Francisco by Pullman hotel train Monday 30th at 6 A. M.

DECISION IN U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

U. S. Circuit Court for the District of Oregon.
Tuesday, June 28, 1870.

John R. Lamb et al., vs. J. P. O. Lownsdale, T. J. Carter et al. In Equity. Suit for partition.

This suit was brought December 31, 1869, for a partition of block 258 in the city of Portland and for an adjustment of a lien thereon for owelty heretofore paid by certain of the defendants in a suit for partition of a tract of land including the premises, between the children of Nancy Lownsdale and the heirs and vendees of her husband Daniel H. Lownsdale. The plaintiffs, John R. Lamb and Emma, his wife, and Ida Squires, her sister, are citizens of Kentucky. The defendants are citizens of Oregon, and except T. J. Carter and Isaac B. Smith, are united in interest with the plaintiffs and make no defence to the bill. The defendants, Carter and Smith, demur to the bill and for cause of demurrer, assign substantially, that the plaintiffs have no interest in the premises.

From the bill it appears that Daniel H., in his lifetime and at and after September 27, 1850, occupied a certain tract of land upon which the city of Portland is partially built and which includes the premises in controversy, as a settler under the donation act of September 27, 1850; and that on April 15, 1854, Nancy, the wife of Daniel H., died intestate, leaving said Daniel H. and William Gillihan and Isabella Ellen Gillihan, her children by a former husband, and Millard O., and Ruth A. Lownsdale, her children by Daniel H., surviving her; and that afterwards in pursuance of said donation act, the west half of said tract, being about 96 acres and now commonly known as the "Nancy Lownsdale tract," and embracing the premises in controversy, was duly set apart by the proper officers of the U. S. Land office to said Nancy, and that on June 6, 1865, the United States issued a patent purporting to grant said Nancy Lownsdale tract including said Block 258 to the said Nancy and her heirs in fee simple. That upon the death of said Nancy, said Daniel H., by operation of said donation act, became seized of an undivided 1-5 of said tract and her children aforesaid of an undivided 1-5 thereof each, in fee simple; and that on January 27, 1860, the said Daniel H. became the owner by purchase of the aforesaid 1-5 of Isabella Ellen Gillihan, then married to William Potter.

That on February 14, 1860, said Daniel H. conveyed an undivided 2-5 of the aforesaid 1-5 purchased from said Isabella Ellen, to Hannah M. Smith, and that on February 26, 1861, he executed and delivered to George C. Robbins a bond for a deed to his undivided interest in said Block 258; and that on November 8, 1861, said Robbins sold his interest in said block and duly assigned said bond to the defendant Smith.

That on May 4, 1862, said Daniel H. died intestate, leaving the plaintiffs, Emma Lamb and Ida Squires and the defendants, J. P. O. Lownsdale, Ruth A. Lownsdale and Mary E. Cooper his only heirs at law, the said Emma and Ida being the children of Sarah M. Squires, a deceased daughter of said Daniel H., and the others being his children.

That on May 22 and August 12, 1865, in a suit brought for the partition of said Nancy Lownsdale tract by said William Gillihan against said Isaac B. Smith and others, including all the parties hereto except T. J. Carter, decrees for partition and payment of owelty were duly given by the Circuit Court of the State for the county of Multnomah, and that by said decrees it was determined that 2-5 of said tract had belonged to said Daniel H. in his lifetime, and that the other 3-5 belonged to said William Gillihan and Millard O., and Ruth A. Lownsdale, and that certain portions of said tract were set apart in severalty to said William, Millard O. and Ruth A. and the remainder of said tract was set apart in gross to the heirs or vendees of said D. H. L. according to their respective interests, whatever they might be, and because of the inequality in quantity and value of such partition as between the children of Nancy Lownsdale and the heirs and vendees of Daniel H. said Circuit Court by its decree provided that the portion or parcels allotted to the latter should pay to the former the gross sum of $32,156 62, owelty, to be distributed among said parcels in proportion to their respective value, and that $1,259 61 of said sum was assessed upon said block 258, and made a lien thereon, which amount the said defendant Smith, afterwards paid with interest.

The effect of this partition upon the ownership of the parcels allotted to the heirs or vendees of Daniel H. was duly considered by this court in Fields vs. Squires, decided at the January term, 1868. It was then held that the 3-5 interest in any particular parcel of which the children of Nancy were divested by the decree of partition, was by the same means vested in the heirs of Daniel H., and not in his previous vendees of all or any portion of said parcel. In other words, the heirs of Daniel H. gave up their 2-5 interest in the parcels allotted to the children of Nancy and received in exchange therefor the 3-5 interest of the children in the remaining parcels or portion of the tract and because of inequality of such partition the owelty was given to such children, and made a lien upon such 3-5 interest as a security for its payment.

The vendees of Daniel H. neither gained or lost by the partition. Neither did his heirs, unless by some covenant of their ancestor they should be estopped to claim this three fifth interest in some particular parcel or block which was allotted to them in exchange for their two fifth interest in the portions of the tract allotted to the children of Nancy. As Daniel H. only had two fifth interest in the Nancy tract, when he sold or conveyed away any specific portion of it—as block 258—the purchaser by means of such sale, release or quitclaim only acquired such 2-5 of such parcel.

It also appears that the interest conveyed by Daniel H. to Hannah M. Smith, was on February 13, 1869, purchased by the defendant J. P. O. Lownsdale from said Hannah and Hiram her husband, and that the defendant Carter has become the assignee and grantee of the interest acquired by Isaac B. Smith in the east half of the premises, to wit: lots 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Upon this state of facts the plaintiffs claim that the defendants Smith and Carter as assignees of Robbins are entitled in equity to the interest which Daniel H. had in this block at the date of the bond to Robbins, which was eight twenty-fifths, and that J. P. O. Lownsdale is entitled to the interest conveyed to Hannah M. Smith, which was two twenty-fifths, but that remaining three-fifths belong to the heirs of Daniel H. and was acquired by them after the death of their ancestor in exchange for their two fifth interest in other portions of the Nancy Lownsdale tract, allotted to the children of said Nancy.

The defendants, Smith and Carter, rest their denial of any interest of the plaintiffs in the premises upon the legal effect of the bond of their ancestor to Robbins and maintain that the question turns upon the proper construction to be given to that instrument.

The bond is in the usual form and in the penal sum of $700, conditioned as follows: "Whereas, I have this day sold, released and quit-claimed unto Robbins, his heirs assigns, etc., all that piece or parcel of land within the corporated limits of the city of Portland, etc., and particularly described as follows—(here follows a description of the premises in controversy by metes and bounds)—Together with all and singular, the appurtenances thereunto belonging to their own use and benefit forever."

Then follows a statement of the consideration of the sale, to the effect that $600 was paid in hand, and that the remaining $100 was to be paid in twelve months, according to the tenor of a certain promissory note of said Robbins, payable to said Lownsdale order, and recited at length in the condition.

"Now know ye also that if said note shall (not) be truly paid and I, the said bounden Lownsdale, shall give unto the said George C. Robbins a good and sufficient title to said piece of land according to these presents, and such further conformation as the title from the United States may vest in me, then this obligation shall be null and void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue."

On the argument it was admitted by counsel for the plaintiff that the word not, in the condition of the bond, (which I have enclosed in brackets) is a clerical mistake, and should be rejected by the Court as mere surplusage.

Stripped of its excessive verbiage and awkward use of technicalities, the intention and legal effect of this instrument are apparent. It is a contract of sale with an agreement or covenant under a penalty equal to the purchase money, upon the part of the seller, to make title to the thing sold upon the payment of the remaining $100 of the purchase money. The sale, release and quitclaim of block 258 did not of itself give the purchaser, Robbins, any interest or right to an interest therein, beyond the 8-25 then owned by Daniel H. But if the latter, in addition to the sale, etc., also covenanted with Robbins or his assigns to make him or them a good and sufficient title to the said piece of land, then he and those claiming under him are estopped to claim anything in the premises to the contrary.

That is this case; the condition of this bond contains in legal effect an agreement or covenant upon the part of Daniel H. with Robbins and his assigns, to make the latter a good and sufficient title, not merely to his present interest in the premises, but to the same piece of land.

Two objections were made in the argument of counsel for plaintiffs to this construction of the condition of the bond. First, that the covenant therein of Daniel H. only bound him to make title to the premises according to these presents, and that according to these presents must be construed to mean according to the terms of the sale, that is—sold, released and quit claimed, and as only 8-25 were sold, etc., then the covenant for title would not extend to the subsequently acquired 3-5 interest. The result of this construction would give the words according to these presents the effect to qualify the general covenant for title into a mere covenant for title to the interest which Daniel H. then had, be it more or less.

It seems to me that this would be to disregard the plain intention of the parties as expressed in the writing, and that too, by giving a strained effect to a more formal phrase which was probably inserted in the instrument as a mere matter of form. If it has any significance, it can mean nothing more or less than according to the terms of this instrument. Now what are the terms of the instrument? That Robbins had purchased the piece of land in question and paid $600 of the purchase money and was to pay $100 more, upon the payment of which last sum Daniel H. was to make Robbins or his assigns a good and sufficient title to said piece of land. The second ground of objection is, that the covenant to make "such further confirmation as the title from the U. S. may vest in me," is inconsistent with the idea that Daniel H. was then the sole owner of the property and intended to covenant to make title to the whole interest therein. I do not see the force of the objection. Besides, if we are to indulge in conjectures upon this subject, it will readily occur to any one who will consider the circumstances that Daniel H. being the owner of a 2-5 undivided interest in a large tract of land might sell a small parcel thereof by metes and bounds and covenant to make a good title thereto, upon the reasonable expectation that in the partition with his deceased wife's children he could and would arrange to have such small parcel allotted to himself in severalty. The reason for inserting the covenant concerning the title of the U. S. was probably this: At the date of the transaction the patent for the land had not been issued, and it is likely that Daniel H. or Robbins, or both of them, had some impression that when the patent did issue to Daniel H., as expected, it would be prudent or necessary for the latter to confirm any title which he might have made to the premises before the issuance of the patent.

In the disposition of other cases heretofore decided in this Court, which involved the question as to the effect of this partition between the children of Nancy and the heirs and vendees of Daniel H. it was assumed without particular investigation or agreement, that the children of Daniel H. took the three fifths interest which was allowed to them in sundry blocks or parcels of the whole tract, for instance, as in block 258, as his heirs and were therefore bound by his acts or covenants in relation to such blocks or parcels. The correctness of this conclusion is now questioned by counsel, and it is suggested that the children of Daniel H. received three-fifths interest in any of these particular blocks or parcels allotted to them, not from their father, but from the children of Nancy in exchange for the two fifths interest which they owned elsewhere in the general tract and surrendered to the children of Nancy.

As the question has not now been specially argued, I will simply state the ground upon which it appears to me that the children of Daniel H. ought to be considered as taking this three fifths interest as his heirs, and leave it open for further consideration whenever it may arise.

The undivided interest of the children of Daniel H. in the Nancy tract being inherited from him, its character in this respect was not changed by the partition and allotment. In the partition suit these children claimed as the heirs of Daniel H. and whatever was allotted to them as his heirs, they hold or claim as his heirs. They acquired no new title by the partition, but only ascertained by means of the judicial proceedings in what portion of the general tract their particular interest was. In contemplation of law the particular tract allotted to them by the decree of partition was the very land which they inherited from their ancestor. Before that time being tenants in common, as Blackstone says, "they all occupy promiscuously," "because none knoweth his own severalty."

It appearing then that in equity the plaintiffs are estopped to claim any interest in the block in controversy as against the defendants Smith and Carter, on account of the covenant of their ancestor to make a good and sufficient title to the same, their demurrer to the bill is sustained.

DEADY, J.

On motion of the plaintiffs it was afterwards ordered that upon payment of $20 costs the plaintiffs might file an amended bill by the first Monday in August.

The New Army Bill

A synopsis of the new army bill [illegible] will be of sufficient interest to [illegible]. The bill consists of twenty five sections and is too long for us to publish entire. Its chief features besides fixing a definite rate of pay for all officers, which we have already published, and providing that the army shall be reduced so as not to exceed 30,000 men is the reduction it makes in the number of officers of all grades. The number of Major Generals is fixed at three and of Brigadier Generals at six and no appointments are to be made to either of these grades till by death retirement or resignation the General officers are reduced below these numbers. The rank of General and also that of Lieutenant General are to expire with the officers now holding them. Brevet rank is not to give any privileges of title uniform or command, though it is not in terms abolished. The retired list is fixed at three hundred and till that number is reached officers who have served thirty years may be retired on their own application and at the discretion of the President. The pay of retired officers will be seventy five per cent of the pay of officers of the same grade in active service. All officers who desire it may be honorably discharged prior to next January with one year's pay and allowances. The offices of military storekeeper and medical storekeeper cease on the 1st of January and the incumbents then are to be mustered out, with one year's pay and allowances. The regimental commissary in cavalry regiments is abolished immediately, and incumbents are to be assigned for duty in their regiments, and shall have the first vacancies in the rank to which they now belong. The grades of regimental commissary sergeant and regimental hospital steward are also abolished, and the corporals in each company are reduced to four. All these officers may elect between assignment by the Secretary of War to other grades or honorable discharge with full pay. Those who are deemed useless to the service or incompetent, and designated as such by the General of the army or commanders of departments are to be sent as soon as possible to an examining board of five to be appointed by the Secretary of War, and, on its recommendation, are to be mustered out with one year's pay, but all such officers are to be heard in their own behalf before the board. Vacancies in either arm of the service are to be filled until next January by appointment from the list of supernumeraries, having reference to present rank and seniority and at that time all supernumeraries are to elect between going into the grade of Second Lieutenant or being honorably mustered out with one year's pay and allowances. These are the principal features of the new act, which was adopted after careful deliberation by a committee of conference appointed from both Houses of Congress.

Mock Celebrations.

Neither Salem nor Portland will attempt anything like a general celebration of the Fourth of July this year. Salem, however, will be diverted by one of those mock celebrations which of late years have been frequently held under the auspices of a fun-making crowd, decked out in fantastic costumes and calling themselves the "Ancient and Honorable Society of Honorificabilitudinitatibus," for which name we are indebted to Costard, one of the "rackers of orthography" represented in Love's Labor Lost, who is described as having been "at a feast of languages and stolen the scraps." In getting off this tremendous word Costard fairly put his fellow pedants to shame. This was in the time of Ferdinand, King of Navarre, and as the Society instituted by Costard, Moth and their illustrious compeers has continued to this day, and doubtless without interruption, its claim to an honorable antiquity can hardly be called an empty one.

But, to be serious as possible about a whimsical and ludicrous matter, we cannot deny, and would even maintain, that these mock celebrations have their uses. True, there is a certain class who profess to be shocked at the burlesque displays and mock processions which are occasionally gotten up on our holidays, and who designate them as stupid, irreverent and silly. We do not take this view of it, for a disposition to satirize the follies of the age does not necessarily imply an abusive intent. Ridicule, when not pointed by ill nature or spite, is sometimes more effective in remedying a fault or forwarding an improvement than any other means. And then, if the authorities of a town are not warranted by the spirit manifested by the citizens in appropriating money to expend in a general celebration, a mock parade gives a chance to enjoy a slight change and breaks the apathetic monotony which prevails on a public holiday that is suffered to pass by without general observance. They who can discern nothing but an unmeaning piece of buffoonery in a well conceived caricature are really more open to the charge of stupidity than the harlequins whom they criticise as fools. There is no harm in these amusing holiday fantasies and considered in some of their features and aspects they are certainly good.

While a Republican Congress, says the Albany (N Y) Journal, is proceeding slowly but surely to the substantial settlement of every important question before it, the Democratic party is unable to harmonize upon any definite line of policy in opposition thereto. It is futile to expect a bold aggressive movement from an organization which is unable to decide whether it is in favor of a tariff for revenue only or a tariff for protection which cannot tell whether it loves greenbacks or gold the most which falters and quibbles over every question, but grapples with none. When Congress shall have adjourned it will have satisfied the people that it has a positive line of conduct, which cannot be safely disturbed.

To criticise with judgment and discrimination requires a rare talent. Now here is the Herald which undertakes to criticise the Administration and it does it by remarking that President Grant stands before the country as incompetent as an Executive as he proved to be as a military commander.

Such criticisms as this are peculiarly valuable. The country however will be able to survive the effects of such incompetency as Grant has played in the field and is now displaying in the Cabinet. No doubt if Lee had thrashed Grant soundly a few times as he did McClellan the Herald would have a higher opinion of Grant's capacity both in military and civil life.

Encouragement for Repudiators

Our city Democrats [illegible] They now [illegible] the applause of [illegible] New York [illegible] that they have challenged the admiration of all true Democrats everywhere by their brave and noble fight. They have won a substantial victory, a victory that means something more than the simple [illegible] of a certain [illegible] to them. The people of the [illegible] State meant [illegible] to the [illegible] incubus that is dragging down and making slaves of the industrial classes of the country. Such [illegible] from such a source should make the hearts of Oregon Democrats swell with pride and exultation. Another New York paper, the Rochester Union talks in a strain very similar to Brick Pomeroy. It was all Democrats to emulate the true men of Oregon who have principles and pluck enough to stick to them." The people are beginning to understand that the Democratic party actually desires to repudiate the debt. This fact will be sufficient to keep that party out of power and cause it to wander yet longer in the wilderness of political disappointment.

The opposition complain that the Republican party has not done anything to improve the currency or help the financial condition of the country. This is not true, as the currency has advanced under Republican management from a low figure up to ninety cents on the dollar. But, as the San Francisco Bulletin observes, those who criticise the Republican party in this respect have neither suggested nor aided any plan for bettering the currency nor helping the finances. They have sought only to embarrass and obstruct, to find fault and make party capital.

Senator Scott of Pennsylvania in a speech on Indian affairs in the Senate of the United States said that "not one drop of Quaker blood was ever shed by an Indian," and claimed that it was the natural result of the Quaker policy established by William Penn. A still better reason is that the Quakers have never been brought in contact with any of the more savage Indian tribes. If they had been taking their chances with other people on the western frontier they wouldn't have been so fortunate.

An Open Confession.

In order to furnish conclusive proof that the Democratic party actually favors repudiation we present the following article from the Oregon Herald on the Ohio Democratic platform. It is not necessary for us to comment on the article. Readers will see at once that it is capable of but one interpretation. Hereafter let the Herald not attempt to disown the doctrine of repudiation, for in this article it has both committed itself to the doctrine and admitted that its party is emphatically in favor of it.

There is one significant feature in relation to the platform laid down by the Democratic State Convention of Ohio on the 1st inst, and that is its silence in relation to the bonded debt of the United States. The question was, however broached in the Committee on Resolutions as we find the following account given thereof by the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, of June 8th. It says "the committee room of the Committee on Resolutions was a seething cauldron. The hard fight was made upon the repudiation plank proposed by Hon Frank Hurd, of Toledo, and backed by Jefferson Palm and Gen. Tom Powell. The former made a speech in favor of his resolutions, which was creditable alike to his genius convictions and earnest Democracy. His chief point was that not only courage and honesty, but true principle, demanded that the Democratic party should take an open and avowed stand in favor of repudiation. Heated speeches in opposition were made by all the other members of the committee. The battle waged warm and furious until after 3 o'clock, at which time the work of this deliberative body was revealed to the Convention." The probability is that a portion of the committee would not accede to Hurd's resolutions from motives of policy, and that the other portion, from motives of principle, would not consent to a resolution pledging the Democratic party to pay the debt according to the terms of a fraudulent contract, and hence the only wise and safe course left, was the one which was adopted by the Convention, which was to put forth resolutions on questions on which there was harmony, and remain silent on those upon which they disagreed reserving an expression thereupon to the result of time, experience and inexorable logic, surely to be educed by the progress of events.

The Snake River Diggings.

According to the Corinne Reporter the mines on the upper waters of Snake river are quite valuable. We quote from that paper:

Matt Taylor of the Snake river bridge brought in a lot of dust from the Snake river diggings yesterday. There are perhaps a thousand men now mining along the river about one hundred and fifty miles from here. About eighty miles beyond the Boise stage station four men took out of an elbow in the bank, fifty feet above the bank with two rockers $600 in five days at the rate of two ounces a day to the man. Men who have gone from here with nothing but pick and pan are coming back occasionally with the dust to purchase rockers, tools provisions etc. Two dozen good rockers were made here last week for the new diggings, and they are being made here at the rate of a dozen a day. The bars and banks of the Snake are peculiarly adapted to this hand rocking, which is the best kind of washing for the mass of men, and consequently for business. It distributes the wealth gained more evenly and through a wider circle. It is understood that Snake river for 200 to 500 miles abounds in five dollar diggings. Mr Taylor thinks that within two years ten thousand men will be employed washing gold along the Snake. People are coming in now from the east and west in parties of twelve and twenty and one hundred, bound thither. Mr Taylor contemplates catching a few of the Asiatics pouring in a stream into Montana, and setting them to work when the water gets lower. Corinne is already doing a lively business with these new prosperous diggings, and that their prospects are so good is a matter of congratulation to our citizens.

Cotton is again King. During the nine months ending March 31 1870 the value of raw cotton exported was $172 482 087, or nearly one half of our entire exports for the period. The entire crop of the year is estimated at 3 237 000 bales an increase of over one million of bales, and the value is nearly three hundred millions of dollars. The profits are greater than in any one year during the existence of slavery. Everywhere planters are increasing the amount of land to be occupied this year. We were circularly told by the Democratic Prophets of the slave gods that if the patriarchal institution should be overthrown Cotton would go it that the 'niggers' were a thriftless lazy vagabond set who would not work unless compelled to. The fact is that these false prophets of false gods were entirely mistaken. The freedmen have arisen ever since the shackles were stricken from them and now they labor as only those do who have something to live for. And to-day a pound of cotton is produced cheaper than in the days of uncompensated servile labor. Modern Democracy leads astray simply because it will not trust the masses or at least only that part which trusts Democracy. This is a fearful mistake.

The prospect of a Republican triumph in Delaware through the large accession of colored voters are very good. The economy of President Grant's Administration contrasted with the extravagance of the Democratic State Government, the feeling which exists against that relic of barbarism, the whipping post, which is tenaciously adhered to by the Democracy the enormous increase of the State debt under Democratic rule with many other causes will aid the Republican nominees. The Convention declared for free schools the white and colored races to be kept separate. This provision in the platform is suggestive of the moderation and discretion of the blacks, who largely controlled the Convention.

CURRENT NOTES

Hepworth Dixon's book on Russia is the laughing stock of Europe. Every intelligent Russian is aroused at the ignorance and audacity of the author and at the folly of the English people in being deluded by such a literary humbug.

The St Louis Democrat insists that it is not sectional to claim that a Western policy [illegible] for to-day and henceforth, no truly national policy is possible except one that shall consider first the interests of the heart of the country, the great producing States of the Mississippi valley.

Recently the Petersburg (Va) Index brought down the double edged sword in this way: "The Democratic party of the North has become a mere political adventurer from whom we have as little reason to expect a frank and manly good will as we have to look for honesty and fairness from the Radicals."

Canada has produced a kitten which is a hydra and almost a centipede in one. We are told that it had five heads and twenty legs "all perfect." The Hamilton (Ont) Times tells the rest of the story thus: "The whole of the monstrosity was alive yesterday and showed no sign of dissolution but to day three of the heads and twelve of the legs became defunct. The other two heads and eight of the legs are yet alive."

Dickens' quaint nom de plume of "Boz" had a characteristic origin. He had a younger brother, a simple hearted boy, whom it had pleased him to baptize as "Moses," by reason of his curious resemblance to a character in Goldsmith's story of "Vicar of Wakefield." Their little sister, unable to shape her lips to this name, called the boy "Boz" and Dickens, fascinated by the droll syllable adopted it as the mask of his first literary effort.

The St Paul (Minn) Press notes as a novel feature of the recent speculative activity in Western grain centers that it is not governed by Liverpool or New York quotations, but that the latter are apparently governed by Western prices. For the Milwaukee quotations for several days have been relatively considerably higher than the contemporaneous prices of New York though the latter have subsequently responded to the advance in the former.

The famous Indian chief astonished some of the politicians at Washington by discarding all circumlocution and driving right at the heart of his subject at once. According to the reports, on one occasion, he expressed the strongest dislike for most of the officers sent out by the Government, "because," said the chief "they are all whisky drinkers and do not tell the truth." "I do not allow my nation, or any white man, to bring a drop of liquors into the country, if he does, that is the last of him and his liquor, too."

A St. Paul dispatch of June 22d says: We have received later advices from the Red River country. The New Nation denounces the action of the Canadian authorities, and says the people of Winnipeg have been deceived. Reil has addressed a protest to the Canadian Government against the treaty concluded with the delegates sent by him to Canada, and especially against the entrance of Canadian troops into the Red River settlements. He intimates that the delegates transcended their authority, and is determined to oppose the attempts of the Canadians to enforce their authority.

The British public are beginning to give up all hopes that the famous African explorer, Dr Livingstone, is among the living. It is a long time since any tidings have been heard of him, and these have been quite vague and unsatisfactory. Unless detained by long sickness, or as a prisoner to some savage tribe, he is probably dead. A British relief expedition has been started from Zanzibar to make a search for him, and find him, living or dead. This search will also settle the important question, Livingstone in his last letter thought he had solved—the point of the highest sources of the river Nile. The return of the expedition will be waited for with great interest.

THE WEST.

"Mr Speaker, I straddle that blind," was the phrase in which a poker playing California legislator seconded a motion. The Gold Hill News is responsible for the statement.

Two California barbers quarreled and arranged a duel. They were to walk around a block in opposite directions, and each was to fire at sight of his antagonist. They started, and soon as the block intervened each took the shortest cut for home, complaining that his adversary didn't come to time.

The San Francisco Bulletin of June 22, says: No vessels have yet been chartered for new wheat, though we have 30,000 tons of disengaged deep water tonnage in port. It is feared that our supply will hardly be sufficient to justify the expectation of reasonable rates for freight. The present inward bound fleet from all foreign and domestic Atlantic ports number 115 vessels.

The Boise Statesman heads an article with the inquiry "Shall murder reign in Idaho?" It says in the cities of Silver, Boise and Idaho, in a little over eleven months, eight murders have been committed. Of this number, four of the perpetrators were acquitted, one is still confined in jail, trial having been postponed on plea of insanity which, as we all know, is equivalent to acquittal, one was convicted of manslaughter, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, but pardoned after about two months confinement, on the petition of numerous citizens of Owyhee, it having been represented by them to the Executive that he had shot the wrong man therefore no crime was committed, and the killing was lawful. Another case a Chinaman, upon being convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged committed suicide, showing that he concurred with the verdict of the jury. The Statesman thinks that quiet, law abiding people cannot afford to go to such a community, and earnestly demands a change for the better.

OREGON.

Rev P S Knight lectured at Salem on Sunday evening on the Whitman mission. He was listened to with great interest.

A military company called the "City Guards" has been organized at Salem. The following officers were elected: M L Culver, Captain; F J Babcock, 1st Lieutenant; Geo F Craw, 2d Lieutenant; William Appleby, Orderly Sergeant.

The Wallamet river, says the Statesman, shows its appreciation of the late rains by a rise of four or five feet at this point, giving a splendid opportunity for lumbermen to bring down their rafts. A freshet the last week in June is something new, even to Oregon.

The improvements on the State Fair Grounds at Salem, are being prosecuted with vigor. The new stables and barn are already finished, and work on the Pavilion will be commenced. A new fence has been built around the race track, on the turn next to the Pavilion and a seat placed there on for the accommodation of visitors.

They fought twenty paces apart to advance to a central line and fire at will. One walked forward and when near the line the other fired and hit him. The other came up until he touched the muzzle of his adversary's pistol, and in a moment both were dead like gentlemen.

It is to be hoped for the credit of Englishmen that her statistics are a trifle exaggerated.

At a late meeting of the Geographical Society in Vienna a resolution was adopted recommending the sending of an Austrian expedition to the South Polar Sea in 1874 to make observations of the transit of Venus. It has been calculated that the most favorable point from which to witness the appearance and disappearance of the planet is in 53 deg. latitude and 12 deg longitude east from Greenwich or in the neighborhood of McDonald's Inlet.

The "Herald" and A Stolen Letter

ED. OREGONIAN: In the Portland Herald of June 2[illegible]th, there is published a letter over my signature and addressed to Senator Williams. As my paper has but a limited circulation, permit me through your columns to make a brief statement in relation to the Herald publication.

The letter is evidently pilfered from a private communication which I addressed to Senator Williams and which together with other private papers was [illegible] from my [illegible] of the meaning of my letter [illegible] Herald. I am unable to say [illegible] the Senator [illegible]

The following members were present: Messrs [illegible] Porter.

Warrants were ordered in payment of the following claims against the city: [illegible] C H Rodgers $102 [illegible] J H Knight $41 50 [illegible]

An ordinance providing for the grading laying of crosswalks sidewalks and roadway etc on Salmon street from Front street to Twelfth street to be completed by September 15 1870 was passed under a suspension of the rules.

A resolution was adopted authorizing notice to be given for the improving of Eighth street between Stark and Jefferson by grading etc was adopted.

On motion of Councilman Breck the Clerk was authorized to give any advertising that may be necessary for the city to the DAILY MORNING OREGONIAN at the price proposed by Mr Pittock until further notice.

Motion was made to adjourn but before stating the question Mr [illegible] said that as this would be the last evening that Councilman Porter would meet with the Board he wished before adjourning to tender Mr Porter thanks for the uniform courtesy and zeal which he had ever manifested in the discharge of his duty as a member of this Council and to assure him that in his retiring he had the good wishes of the Board for his future.

Mr Porter responded pleasantly reviewing briefly the past course of the city and congratulated the Council upon the present prosperous condition of affairs. He said that while some might think that the expenditures had not always been as they might have been he thought that the Council had always been actuated for the best interests of the city and disposed of the city funds without prejudice—he should go out believing that the Board was composed of men [illegible] with the prosperity of Portland and that they would do their duty. He paid a handsome tribute to his successor Mr J B Congle. He had but one apology to offer the Board on his retirement and that was that sometimes the urgency of his business had kept him from the full discharge of his duties, but at all times he had endeavored to act with the best interests of the city in constant view—since committing a [illegible] error soon after coming into the Council, which was a disgrace and had always been regretted. [We presume the matter referred to was the contest for City Marshal in 1867—REPORTER.] But as the people have that matter in hand, he hoped that nothing of the like character should ever occur again. Returning his thanks to the members for their many kindnesses, he bid them adieu.

The Council adjourned.

BOARD OF TRADE.—Quite a large meeting was held last evening at the Portland Library room to take measures for the organization of a Board of Trade. There was perfect unanimity of opinion in regard to the necessity for such an institution. The following is an official copy of the proceedings:

PORTLAND June 29, 1870

At a meeting held at the Portland Library Rooms this evening for the purpose of taking steps to organize a Board of Trade for this city

On motion of Mr Mayor Goldsmith Mr R G. Sneath was called to the chair and Mr T. B Trevett appointed Secretary.

The Chairman read a paper addressed to the meeting setting forth at some length the necessity, design and duties of such an organization.

Mr Goldsmith made some remarks in favor of immediate organization.

Mr Ladd moved that it be resolved by this meeting that the time has come for the establishment of a Board of Trade in this city. Carried.

Mr Wakefield submitted the following motion in writing which was carried:

Mr Chairman—I move sir that Messrs R G. Sneath M S Burrell and H C Leonard be appointed a committee to draft a Constitution and By laws for the establishment of a Board of Trade for the city of Portland and that they be and are hereby authorized to nominate persons to fill the various offices under such Constitution and By laws. And I would move also that they be empowered to call this assemblage together by publication in the various daily newspapers, on the completion of their labors.

After the conclusion of the action of the meeting in regard to the Board of Trade by common consent remarks were made by several gentlemen suggesting that some action be taken in aid of the Portland Labor Exchange which institution was stated to be in need of funds.

Mr John Green moved that a monthly and also a donation subscription list for the benefit of the Portland Labor Exchange be opened, carried.

Mr Schuyler moved that the monthly subscriptions expire at the end of six months, carried.

One hundred and thirty three dollars were then subscribed upon the monthly, and twenty five upon the donation list.

Mr McCracken moved a vote of thanks to the Chairman, carried.

The Secretary was directed, on motion of Mr Thompson to turn over the subscription lists to Col. Drake Secretary of the Portland Labor Exchange.

Voted that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the several papers of the city. Adjourned.

JOHN JOHN CHINAMAN.—In the Circuit Court, yesterday, there was a laughable scene when it [illegible] that John Chinaman had got the [illegible] of the Court, Prosecuting Attorney and the [illegible]. There were three Chinamen under indictment. The case was called up yesterday the defendants were brought into Court and a jury [illegible], as usual taking up two or three hours' [illegible]. Finally the panel was completed the jurors [illegible], and then the Prosecuting Attorney rose [illegible] read the indictment, and called for Shing Shong, Ding Dong etc witnesses for the State. Though there were a dozen or two Celestial [illegible] sitting in the court room apparently watching the proceedings with great interest, neither Shing Shong Ding Dong nor etcetera answered. Inquiry being made it was soon discovered that not one of the witnesses could be found. And further investigation disclosed the fact that the aggrieved parties had colluded with the defendant parties reaching a mutually satisfactory understanding and spirited away all the witnesses. Of course there was nothing to do but to discharge the jury and there the matter rests as lawyers would say in statu quo the court having overruled the motion of defendant's attorney for a verdict.

President Grant's Cuban Message

[From the Boston Advertiser June 14]

The message of the President concerning Cuban belligerency is a sound and statesmanlike document. No man living ought to be equally competent to declare as an expert what degree of hostilities does or does not constitute war as that phrase should be understood between powerful and sovereign nations. His mere dictum upon such a question would be entitled to great respect but this deliberate and carefully weighed opinion in which he speaks as much like a statesman as he does like a soldier, ought to be regarded as conclusive.

From the outset the action of the administration has been governed by a rigid regard for law and duty. The simple truth is, that this revolt has not yet grown into a revolution that these disturbances have not become a war. Everybody knows that it is only because Spain is so weak or so sluggish that the island has not been long since reduced. What then is to be thought of the military power of [illegible] who owe to the helplessness of their adversaries not victory and success but only the bare possibility of a precarious continuance in being? How can we magnify into belligerents possessing the characteristics of a new nation, the disorderly crowds which in the distant dependency of a divided and decrepit power, after protracted hostility have failed to make any tangible impression? There has been a guerilla contest nothing more. Not a town of any note has been taken or is now held by the rebels not a fortress has yielded to them not a port has been blockaded not a vessel has been launched [illegible] conflict which really deserved to be dignified by the name of battle has been fought. If belligerency can be properly recognized under these circumstances it would be difficult to say when it cannot be properly recognized.

The great noise about aiding oppressed peoples and the cause of liberty is a grandiloquent [illegible] raised only because it is a good [illegible]. Nobody is more ready than ourselves [illegible] in the spread of free institutions. But we refuse to be deceived by the [illegible] false [illegible] unworthy use of these phrases. There is nothing unfriendly or cold in a refusal to acknowledge rebels as belligerents until they have earned a right to be thus acknowledged. The sympathies of the people of the United States have been unmistakably expressed in this Cuban matter. It is one thing to [illegible] rebels hearty good wishes and a widely different thing to recognize them as having reached such a degree of organization and military strength as entitles them to take [illegible] among the powers of the earth. Further, even in the [illegible] of sympathy it is not easy to feel any very [illegible] enthusiasm on behalf of those who prefer burning and murdering to legitimate warfare. The brutality which has disgraced both sides in the struggle makes one shudder and feel sick and really doubt whether there will be much loss to humanity if such opponents are allowed to go on slaying each other. It is a thankless question to ask which is the worse for where [illegible] are so [illegible] bad the comparative degree of [illegible] seems swallowed up. Yet interference on the ground of humanity would be quite different from and perhaps [illegible] justifiable and proper than [illegible] recognition of rebel belligerency.

The annoyances to which our [illegible] are liable [illegible] the subject [illegible] well set forth in the message. [illegible] made sensible [illegible] Our [illegible] is not in a condition in which we can afford to have it again brought beneath [illegible] laws of war. Visit and search by Spanish cruisers would do greater harm [illegible] all [illegible] set by any good we should [illegible] further [illegible] Cuban insurrection. The second [illegible] is also clearly [illegible] Of all nations it best behooves us in [illegible] foreign complications to [illegible] regard or to [illegible] the rules of international law in order [illegible] recognize the belligerency of rebels. No other cabinet has [illegible] so much as gravely entertained the question of this recognition. If we led the way it is easy to [illegible] that would be made against us and [illegible] in the opinion of a large number of our own people would be not wholly unjustly made. Neither would [illegible] be [illegible] to [illegible] that [illegible] attributed to our [illegible] the [illegible] power of the [illegible] country [illegible] be [illegible] and [illegible] otherwise have [illegible].

In [illegible] Boston and throughout New England [illegible] people who have generally [illegible] its as our people [illegible] California can [illegible] country [illegible] wealth wasted. When California [illegible] become like them in these respects she will [illegible] our wealth [illegible] and our State will again enjoy an era of prosperity.

The New York Democracy will probably be the heaviest sufferers from the provisions of the recently enacted Federal law to insure freedom and honesty in elections. But their brethren in other cities will suffer proportionately. Brooklyn has shown itself the rival of this city, and the Albany Evening Journal states that there too fraud [illegible] itself manifest. Philadelphia Cincinnati Chicago and other large cities could doubtless tell the same story. Local causes have made the Democracy of New York more triumphant in the use of improper means of controlling elections but the party conscience is not sensitive upon that subject anywhere. Federal authority may enforce what Democratic conscience has failed to yield.—N Y Times.

Vinnie Ream writes from Rome that she hopes to have her Lincoln statue completed by January next. She will accompany it to America in February next, and present it to Congress before it adjourns. She will spend the summer and autumn at Carrara—at work on the marble.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice.

Free Trade the Cause of Poverty

The New York World is one of the trusted organs of the revenue reformers. It is persistent and ingenious in the presentation of the sophisms of free trade. It believes in statistics that have been manipulated by Commissioner Wells and while imposing heavy duties on tea coffee spices ivory and palm oil it would reduce those on cotton and woolen goods iron and steel and make coal salt and lumber free. It professes to believe that free trade has converted England into an earthly paradise. But the letter from our own correspondent in the World of the 12th instant casts a shade of doubt upon this point. It is dated London, May 28 and among many other things, contains the following touching sketch

A DISTRESSFUL INCIDENT

I left the cottage and walked down the road that leads to the village of Feltham. Seated on the benches before the Plough Inn were groups of peasants, in smock frocks corded trousers and hob-nailed shoes. Along the road at intervals were a few cottages all of them very old very dirty very substantial and still very picturesque. Presently the road took a turn and wound down a ravine and over a little stream of water clear as crystal. As I stood for a moment on the bridge two men approached me and taking off their hats and making an awkward scrape with their feet, said

Master would ye bestow on us a penny or so to buy us some bread

What is the matter? I asked

We can get no work to do, said both the men in a breath

One of the men was very old and the other was young they had clothing enough to cover their nakedness and that was all. The old man had a stick in his hand his few white hairs were matted together with dirt his eyes had a weary, yearning hungry look

Why said I to the old man you could not work if any one should offer to employ you

"Oh Yes master he replied in an eager voice I am strong yet ain't I, Billy? I could do a good day's work as any man

Well, why can't you get it?

Master " said the younger man the country's seabonts is all in distress and I do hear that it's no better in Berks nor yet in Middlesex. It's all along of the large farmers and the machinery

And putting down the land in grass, Billy interrupted the old man

Yes, master and putting down the land in grass, and turning farms into game preserves. Where there used to be work for a score there is no work now for one, and it makes it hard. This is the time of year when we naturally look for work, the old man and I have been in the 'workus' all winter, but it is sad to be shut up between stone walls when one thinks of the green fields and the blue sky, and five weeks ago we came out and sought for work. We have only had two days of work all that time

"What do they do for you in the house?" I asked.

Well sir, first of all you has to break three-quarters of a yard of stone a day and if you come short of that you has bread and water—five ounces of bread a day and no more; if you does your task—and it is hard toil—you get six ounces of bread in the morning, five ounces of meat and five ounces of bread for your dinner and a pint of broth and five ounces of bread at night, and then you sleeps on a board. That's what they does for you in the house, master.

A POLICEMAN SAYS IT IS ALL TRUE

A police officer here passed by and sharply eyeing the men gruffly ordered them to move on. I told him that I asked them to stop at which he touched his hat and begged my pardon, remarking that it was his duty to prevent all "cadging" by tramps, but that if the gentleman wished to talk to them he had no objection. He knew these two men, he said, and they were honest fellows but the law did not allow them to beg. If they begged they had to be shut up in jail for a month. The officer turned his back and sauntered away toward the village. I put some money into the hands of the men and hurried after him

Oh yes, sir, said he when I had overtaken him it is all right we shut our eyes to it whenever we can but I saw you were a stranger and we must do as the law directs. Poor devils! I don't know what they told you, but they couldn't have told you anything worse than the truth. The distress is awful. I don't know what we are coming to. Things get worse and worse every year and only last week three rate-payers of this parish went themselves on the rates. Talk of Ireland! Why sir, if the poor here hadn't all the spirit ground out of them there would be a rising such as Ireland has never seen. The Government takes credit for reducing the national debt and diminishing the income tax it is all right enough no doubt, but it don't help the people any. They sink lower and lower every year. You come down to our Union sir and I'll show you scores of men who were rate-payers a few years ago and who are paupers now

DOUGLAS AND LINCOLN [illegible] proposes to create another Territory to be named Douglas and admit it into the Union to be designated as Lincoln. The new Territory is to be carved out of the land [illegible] which now constitutes the Indian [illegible] nomad being [illegible] presents and [illegible] hunting grounds [illegible] further [illegible] for their civilized [illegible]. The State of Lincoln is to be comprised of what at present constitutes the Territory of New Mexico which was ceded to the United States by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo. It is bounded by the State of Texas on the east on the north by Colorado Territory on the south by Texas and Mexico and on the west by Arizona comprising an area of 121,201 square miles or 77,568,640 acres. The soil is fertile in most parts and well adapted to support a numerous population. Its mining resources are not fully developed but sufficient is known to indicate the existence of extensive mineral tracts. According to the last census (1860) there were 93,516 inhabitants of whom 43,699 were white males 39,280 white females and 10,4[illegible] Indians. Since then the population has naturally increased. Politically New Mexico in electing a delegate to Congress has voted with the Republicans and without doubt the bill admitting the State will be opposed by the Democrats

The Boston Advertiser referring to the efforts of McFarland in Indiana to have the divorce which his wife obtained annulled says If he could carry his proceedings so far as to compel his wife to live with him again after what has passed he would prove a more effective agent in destroying the marriage laws than all the disciples of free love who have ever preached or practiced

VARIETIES

A Sioux who wishes to compliment the Quakers has named himself after William Penn which he translates Bill Quill

Three-year-old emphatically to a lady on the wall Shoo! don't buzz me. Mother

Dear dear where did you learn that? From your old singing. But what's your [illegible] sai l

The Atlanta (Ohio) True Light laments that [illegible] attacked [illegible] and [illegible] the spirit of [illegible]

A lady refused to accompany her husband out to [illegible] because the prevailing fashion had left but very little hair of her own on her head but what she had she preferred to keep

There are many afflicted readers who will drop a sympathizing tear with Columbus (Ohio State Journal which says We [illegible] can't have [illegible] that Washington's body servant was really finally [illegible] and we should hear no more of him but the newspapers have commenced with his children now. Four of them have died during the past week

An Iowa man tried to hug a neighbor's wife but before he got through the lady hit him with a rolling pin and put him out of doors. The husband took a revolver and went to the man for satisfaction but concluded to settle by taking a note for ten dollars which he traded off for a corn plow. The man who holds the note can't collect it the giver of it claiming that he did not get value received. He says he will never pay the note until he gets the balance of that hug. The case will go to the courts

Mark Twain having been elected an honorary member of a Poultry Society replied in [illegible] himself in the following style Even as a school boy poultry raising was a study with me and I may say without egotism that as early as the age of seventeen I was acquainted with all the best and speediest methods of raising chickens from raising them off a roost by burning lucifer matches under their noses, down to lifting them off a fence on a frosty night by insinuating the end of a warm board under their heels. By the time I was twenty years old I really suppose I had raised more poultry than any one individual in all the section round about there. The very chickens came to know my talent by and by. The youth of both sexes ceased to paw the earth for worms and the old roosters that came to crow remained to pray when I passed by

Literal Answers

A lady noticed a boy sprinkling salt on the sidewalk to take off the ice, and remarked to a friend pointing to the salt

"Now that's benevolence "

"No it ain't " said the boy somewhat indignant, "it's salt

So when the lady asked her servant if the hired man cleaned off the snow with alacrity she replied

No ma'am he used a shovel

The same literal turn of mind which we have been illustrating is sometimes used intentionally and perhaps a little maliciously and thus becomes the property of wit instead of blunder. Thus we hear of a very polite and impressive gentleman who said to a youth in the street

Boy, may I enquire where Robinson's drug store is?

Certainly sir said the boy very respectfully

Well sir the gentleman after waiting awhile where is it?

I have not the least idea yer honor, said the urchin

There was another boy who was accosted by an ascetic middle aged lady with

Boy I want to go to Dover street

Well ma'am said the boy why don't you go then?

One day, at Lake George, a party of gentlemen strolling among the beautiful islands on the lake, with bad luck, espied a little fellow with a red shirt and a straw hat, dangling a line over the side of a boat

Halloo boy said one of them what are you doing?

Fishing, came the answer

Well of course " said the gentleman, but what do you catch?

Fish you fool what do you s'pose?"

"Did any of you ever see an elephant's skin? inquired a teacher of an infant class

"I have exclaimed one

Where asked the teacher

On the elephant said the boy laughing

Sometimes this sort of wit degenerates or rises as the case may be into punning as when Flora pointed pensively to the heavy masses of clouds in the sky saying

I wonder where those clouds are going

and her brother replied

I think they are going to thunder

Also the following dialogue:

Halloo, there how do you sell your wood?

By the cord

How long has it been cut?

"Four feet

I mean how long has it been since you cut it?

No longer than it is now

And also when Patrick O Flynn was seen with his collar and bosom sadly begrimed and was indignantly asked by his officer

Patrick O Flynn! how long do you wear a shirt?

Twenty-eight inches sir

This reminds one of an instance which is said to have occurred recently in Chatham street, New York, where a countryman was clamorously besieged by a shopkeeper

Have you any fine shirts? said the countryman

"A splendid assortment. Step in sir. Every price and every style. The cheapest in the market sir

Are they clean?

To be sure sir

Then said the countryman with great gravity you had better put one on for you need it

The [illegible] of the Northern Pacific Railroad [illegible] Friday awarded the contract for the construction of the Minnesota Division of the road 233 miles in length extending from the Dalles of the St Louis River westward to the Red River of the North to as strong a railroad building party as can be organized in this country. It is a combination of the [illegible] firm of Ross Payson & Co with the Minnesota firm of Brackett Morrison & Co. Each has large experience and ample resources. The entire work is to be completed by July 1 1871. The Committee have also contracted for 20,000 tons of rails with the iron appendages necessary and the engines cars &c requisite for the work. This looks like business the men who have this road mean business and [illegible] believe they are sure to make of it a brilliant and speedy success

The St Paul Press says that if Russia will do them the favor to kick up a little fuss with the sick man of Constantinople the fortunes of the Minnesota farmers will be made for the coming year

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco. Established in [illegible] for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases [of] years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering [illegible] miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this [illegible] situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents and guardians attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured [illegible] before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted and those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society [illegible] pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue, fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained [illegible] immediately [illegible] in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these awful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written agreement binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge

CURED AT HOME

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use [illegible] letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks [illegible] pretenders who with bogus swindling certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are [illegible] too lazy to work at their trades. Some were [illegible] makers newspaper carriers [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco [illegible] and you will not find their [illegible] Look at the Directory for 1863 1864.
